MISS SHONTZ DISCUSSES THE GIRL OF TO-DAY AT P.-T. A. MEETING

By Walt. Le Noir Church

"Am I my brother's keeper?" That was Cain's lying negative-interrogatory after slaying Abel.

"Am I my sister's keeper?" demands a man, with like defiance of truth, after having maimed, if not murdered, the soul of some little girl who trusted him, perhaps not knowing enough to realize that she was trusting; or maybe driven to take a chance by the stern necessity of want that knows no law. Yesterday Miss Shontz told of one mere child driven to ruin by want, not wanton-ness. She and her young Don Juan were brought before her, the girl weeping, terrified, the boy stolid, unrealizing, calmly admitted, gave her the dollar all right. What's wrong about that?" A most tensely interested audience of many women "Why, yes; sure I did—why not—I and two men gathered yesterday afternoon in the Intermediate School auditorium, to hear Miss Orfa Jean Shontz tell of her serious, sad work as Referee of the Los Angeles Juvenile Court. She had been induced to come because of the appreciated practical help given her work by the Federated P.-T. A. Mrs. Burr of Glendale presided. She announced that for the first time in two years, the president, Mrs. Hutchinson, was unable to attend. Very graciously she welcomed and introduced Miss Shontz, after the audience had been entertained by Miss Champlain's rendition of a difficult piano solo, Binet's "Tarantelle," which was well received.

Miss Orfa Jean Schontz

Miss Shontz, one of the best lawyers at the Los Angeles bar, with an unusually wide and varied experience in business affairs, is an unusually modest and unassuming public speaker, but very convincing withal, telling what she knows in a way that makes you know it is the sad, deplorable truth.

She is a second cousin of the civil and hydraulic engineer, Theodore P. Shontz, who gave up his position as builder of the Panama Canal, to accept a salary of seventy-five thousand dollars per year from the constructors of the New York subway, who thought their great work could not be done without Shontz, while several others were ready, willing and competent to complete the Panama Canal. (It is not impossible that Col. Shontz knew more about the Culebra than the powers that be would admit to be true.) Miss Shontz lives up to the reputation for doing unusually difficult things well, so wellearned by the Shontz family. Yesterday she said in substance:

Much as I have spoken in public, I can not say I enjoy it. While at Law School, I put off the course in oratory till I had to take it in order to get a diploma. Then I paid the instructor to give me the required public instruction privately. I understand that the article of Mr. Church in the Glendale Evening News has widely advertised my coming. What he said must have scared away most of the men, as I see but two here.

When in my office Tuesday Mr. Church left the Aloha Leaflet of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce. From that I see that Glendale must be an unusually religious city, having church and vesper services every day.

Some lady reported me as saying that of the four things which contributed to the delinquency of girls, the worst is Eugenics. Smiling with those who smiled, she denied saying that. But, she continued, one of the most puzzling, baffling things on earth is the modern girl. Yet the future of the nation is in her little

JOINT MEETING

N. P. BANKS POST AND CORPS HOLD REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING

N. P. Banks Post G. A. R. met in G. A. R. hall in regular session Friday morning at 10 a. m. Commander Robinson, the right man in the right place, presided. There was a large attendance, as is usual on all fourth Fridays. After partaking of the good things so generously provided by the Woman's Relief Corps at the luncheon hour, a program of unusual interest was given. Miss Elsie Tiffany played a beautiful piano solo, which was received with much appreciation, which was followed by a short address by Mrs. Ella Carlon of Long Beach, department president. Comrade Leland Seur of Sawtelle delighted the old comrades with "Songs of Long Ago" on his violin, and he was accompanied by Mrs. Queen Danner on the piano and by every old boy who could move his feet in keeping time with the old tunes played in '61. Comrade Colonel Ginger of Glendale gave a address on the country's present critical condition, and Mrs. Priscilla Houdyshel read an original poem. Dr. J. H. Henry sang "I'm Dreaming a Dream," accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Winona Crawford. Mrs. Clara Holland of Los Angeles, department treasurer, called the silver-tongued orator of the department, gave an interesting talk on patriotism and her work in the department. Comrade Hull of Bartlett-Logan Post of Los Angeles gave a greatly appreciated reading. Comrade Seur gave a few more selections from the songs of long ago on his violin and all were loth to have the program close, but business called the W. R. C., and their session proved very interesting. The department officers who were present and took part in the meeting were Department President Mrs. Carlon, Department Treasurer Mrs. Holland, our own Mrs. Adelaide Imler, Department Inspector, and the beloved Corps President, Mrs. Ada Atkinson, who did her part beautifully, both in presiding and in entertaining the superior officers. After the regular business, remarks were made by the department officers regarding the coming convention, which is to be held in Long Beach in May, which all the members hope to attend.

A YELLOW MONSTER

"You may beat it with a beet, but never with a carrot." That is the inscription in the window of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, referring to an immense carrot, just from the garden of Mr. A. H. Wightman, southwest corner of Colorado and Central avenues. That prize vegetable is over fifteen inches long, eighteen inches in circumference, nearly seven inches in diameter, and weighs over five pounds. With the untrimmed roots and tops it weighed over eight pounds.

Mr. Wightman is a prominent member of the Glendale Quoit club, the best ever. This carrot shows that the quoit fan's muscle gets paramount results in gardening also.

Take a look at Glendale's big carrot and get some of the Chamber of Commerce Aloha Leaflets to send east to your friends, and so lend a hand to doubling Glendale's population in five years. By the way, the secretary of the Chamber of Commerre has just joined the Glendale Rifle and Revolver club and the Glendale Quoit club. He says he is interested in whatever belongs to Glendale.

The South Pasadena Record in its issue of March 21 gives a fac simile of the front page of the Glendale Evening News for a comparison with other front page make-ups of papers in Southern California already reproduced or to be reproduced. The Record asks its subscribers to give their opinions and preferences of the different front-page makeups and states that these samples of newspaper styles have created no little interest and comment.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE RECOGNIZED

As an evidence that our Chamber of Commerce is an organization of recognized standing, the secretary, Walt. Le Noir Church is in receipt of a letter from the Pacific Electric railway company enclosing an annual pass over their lines and expressing the hope that he may be able to make good use of the same in carrying on the work of the organization. Mr. Church is also the recipient of the same courtesy from the Glendale-Montrose Railway company.

REICHSTAG BLAMES KAISER

SAYS WILHELM AND HOLLWEG RESPONSIBLE FOR WAR —LAUD NEW RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

AMSTERDAM, March 24.—Word was received to-day that Thursday's German Reichstag debate was featured by a bitter attack on the Kaiser and Chancellor Hollweg as the originators of the war. There was a socialistic demonstration lauding Russia for overthrowing the autocracy.

FIERCE FIGHTING ON WESTERN FRONT

GERMANS DESPERATE AS PURSUERS PRESS THEM CLOSER TO THE HINDENBURG LINE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, March 24.—The Germans are desperately fighting to check the advance of the Allies as they near the "Hindenburg line." Fierce fighting has developed on the general converging of the men on both sides. Allied progress continues despite the fierce resistance. Northeast of Tergnier the Germans inundated the territory by opening canal sluices, making the town of Lasere untenable by the French.

MILITIA TO PROTECT MASSACHUSETTS

STATE TROOPS WILL GUARD SHIP YARDS, ARSENALS AND MUNITIONS FACTORIES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Two regiments of Massachusetts militia will be ordered immediately to protect Massachusetts ship yards, arsenals and munitions plants according to an arrangement between Secretary Daniels and Governor McCall of Massachusetts. The department refused to state whether militia would be used for similar duty elsewhere.

TO RECALL WHITLOCK

AMERICAN MINISTER TO BELGIUM TO BE WITHDRAWN— U. S. TO DISCONTINUE RELIEF WORK

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The state department has announced that Brand Whitlock will be withdrawn as American minister to Belgium. The government will also withdraw active relief work in Belgium, leaving this in the hands of Holland and other neutral countries.

SHIPBUILDERS' CONFERENCE

SECRETARY DANIELS WILL ENDEAVOR TO INCREASE ANNUAL OUTPUT OF DESTROYERS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Because only three shipbuilders bid on the fifteen destroyers offering to build a total of fifty-four vessels, Secretary Daniels called a conference of shipbuilders to-day to discuss the emergency and the possibility of increasing the output so that fifty destroyers could be built within a year. The army is temporarily concealing its plans awaiting action of Congress. It is probable that the army will ask Congress for a material increase in the number of line officers.

FOR STATE DEFENSE

GOVERNOR STEPHENS WILL ORGANIZE COMMISSION OF DEFENSE FOR PROTECTION OF CALIFORNIA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SACRAMENTO, March 24.—The Governor's plans for a state commission of defense will come before the legislature next week. It will probably be in the form of a special appropriation bill for $50,000 to finance organizing of the work and to study state protection problems. Governor Stephens hopes to have the work fully organized before the legislature adjourns.

POSTOFFICE ROBBERY

LOS ANGELES BRANCH OFFICE AT FLORENCE AND LA DOUX ROBBED EARLY THIS MORNING

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, March 24.—The branch postoffice at Florence and LaDoux avenues was robbed of between $200 and $300 in cash and stamps early to-day. The safe was blown open. The federal authorities believe that three men were implicated and that all escaped in an automobile.

LEAGUE RALLY

METHODIST YOUNG PEOPLE OF THE VALLEY DISCUSS WORK

The annual sub-district rally of the Epworth League was held in the West Glendale M. E. church Friday evening, the leagues represented being from the Eagle Rock, Tropico, Casa Verdugo, Burbank, Glendale and West Glendale M. E. churches. Rev. Lummis of the Lincoln church, Los Angeles, was the speaker of the evening and the subject of his address was "Sensation vs. Stagnation." He handled his subject in a very able manner, giving a very splendid talk. Two vocal numbers were contributed by Herman Joy of West Glendale. The meeting then adjourned and the different departments of the League held conferences talking over their work. At the close of these conferences Miss Ethel Murphy of Casa Verdugo, 4th vice-president of the district, took charge of the games and a merry social time was enjoyed, after which refreshments were served under direction of Miss Marjorie Singleton of West Glendale, fourth vice-president. The Epworth League convention of the Los Angeles district, to be held in Pomona in May, was discussed during the evening. The social hall of the church was very prettily decorated in the League colors of red and white, a canopy of red and white crepe paper reaching from the chandeliers to the corners of the room and red and white carnations being used about the room A banner is given every year to the league having the largest number present and West Glendale won the banner this year, winning it also in 1916.

MRS. TIGHT DISPOSES OF GLENDALE PROPERTY

Mrs. Mabel L. Tight of 423 West Third street has just returned from a week's visit to El Centro where she inspected her recently acquired property. Mrs. Tight has just exchanged her two apartment houses on the northeast corner of Third street and Glendale avenue to Long Beach parties for a 320-acre ranch near El Centro. The land is all under cultivation and largely in cotton. Mrs. Tight is wonderfully pleased with the Imperial valley and expects to make many visits there the coming summer. While in El Centro she visited the E. D. Goode and Frank Albright families and reports a most delightful time.

SIZE OF THE FLAG

P. A. Clark of Long Beach, a civil war veteran, sends the following clipping in regard to the size and proportions of the American flag. He says there is not one person in ten thousand who knows these interesting facts and asks that we publish it for the sake of the rising generation. The clipping is as follows:

"There has been so much confusion as to the official flag of the United States that the treasury department has just issued an order fixing the proportions. The flag should be one unit in width, 1.9 units in length, width of union seven-thirteenths of a unit, length of union 0.76 of a unit, width of each stripe one-thirteenth of a unit."

Mr. Clark also says:

"The city council of Chicago has done what appears to me to be the eminently right thing in the passing of an ordinance prohibiting bands from playing the Star Spangled Banner as any part of a medley, or as a ragtime tune. If the national association of musicians would only make this one of their rules also we would soon have our stately old national anthem again. Mrs. Carrie Alexander-Bahrenburg, past national president of the Woman's Relief corps, is responsible for this very patriotic reform."

MRS. EMILY DUNBAR COX

Mrs. Emily Dunbar Cox passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Smalley, in Sycamore canyon Friday, March 23, at 1 p. m. Mrs. Cox was born in the state of Ohio, July 8, 1835, and thus was in her eighty-second year at the time of her passing from this life. She had lived in California for the past fifty-three years and the last thirteen years were spent in Glendale. Besides her daughter, Mrs. Cox leaves two sons, Clement D. Cox, who resided with her, and Jacob C. Cox of Venice.

Private services were held at the Pulliam Undertaking chapel Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. C. R. Norton officiating. Interment was in Forest Lawn cemetery.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Sunday. Westerly winds.

MEN BANQUET

FEDERATED BROTHERHOOD DISCUSS Y. M. C. A. AND CIVIC CENTER

The Federated Brotherhood of San Fernando Valley held their annual banquet Friday evening, March 23, in the bungalow of the Christian church at 6:30. The men upon arriving congregated in the audience room of the church and engaged in discussion of current topics until Dr. I. H. Durfee, president of the Brotherhood, announced that the banquet was served in the bungalow. He assured the guests it would be perfectly safe to leave their overcoats and hats in the church as they would be properly taken care of. The men took their places at tables which had been carefully arranged by ladies of the Christian church, who served the banquet. Prayer was offered by Rev. C. A. Cole, pastor of the Christian church. The supper was bountiful and was served promptly and systematically. So satisfied were the guests with the service that a motion prevailed extending thanks to the ladies for their excellent service. At the same time a vote of thanks was extended to the Glendale Evening News for the publicity given the meeting.

At the close of the supper Rev. E. Hoskyns read the minutes of the preceding meeting. A motion prevailed that there be two banquets each year instead of six, one in the fall and one in the spring. Ed M. Lee, treasurer, then read his report.

L. C. Leeds was called upon to give a report of his investigations as to the advisability of Glendale establishing a Y. M. C. A. organization. Mr. Leeds had made careful inquiries as to the expense necessary to establish and maintain an organization of this character and his report was enthusiastically received by those present. He referred to South Pasadena and Whittier as cities having very successful Y. M. C. A. associations.

Dr. Henry R. Harrower was present to report for the P.-T. A. civic center committee as to the progress that committee is making in organizing a civic center club. Dr. Harrower said that their plans are somewhat imaginary as yet. He said the young people of Glendale are in search of pleasure and as conditions are at present it is difficult for them to have their wants satisfied in a legitimate way in Glendale. He recommended a concerted effort on the part of all on this question. Dr. Harrower reviewed the many things that are needed for the entertainment of the young people in Glendale and among these he placed as most important a swimming pool. He said his committee would continue working out this civic center idea and would be ready to report something more definite at a later date.

Rev. Hoskyns, as spokesman for the nominating committee, recommended that the present officers of the federation be re-elected. A motion to concur with Mr. Hoskyns' recommendation received hearty support. Dr. I. H. Durfee will therefore continue as president of the federation.

Rev. John Snape, pastor of the Hollywood Baptist church, addressed the Brotherhood on the subject of getting together. This gentleman was for many years pastor of a church in New York and later pastor of the leading Baptist church in Seattle, Wash. His address was a very able one. He dwelt upon the fact of every person having a social obligation to others. He said the drunken man is under obligations to the policeman who picks him up from the gutter. The hermit who lives in his cabin in an isolated place is under obligation to the man who made the gun and the ammunition with which he procures the game of the forest. The dead man is under obligation to those who give him a respectable burial and plant flowers on his grave. At the close of the address he was given a vote of thanks. Rev. B. Dudley Snudden spoke on the importance of the organization of a Y. M. C. A. in Glendale and urged that definite action be taken in regard to the report given by Mr. Leeds. Others who spoke upon this question were Benjamin Nichols, who said he had visited the South Pasadena Y. M. C. A., and N. J. Wright, who favored all propositions that had been presented and suggested that a time be set for open discussion on these questions. S. A. Davis thought enough had been said for one evening and that to have any more speechmaking would tend to detract from the points brought out by the speaker of the evening.

The man with a few words doesn't have to take so many of them back.

Corson, Columbus, O.; Mrs. W. H. Hindley, Los Angeles; Mrs. Ida Baldwin, Los Angeles; Miss Mary Haffley, Fullerton, Calif.; Katherine M. Patterson, Los Angeles; Carl H. Adam, Los Angeles; and Mrs. E. N. Stark, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Baldridge and party, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nimmo and parents, Los Angeles; Mrs. J. F. There were thirty-eight guests at dinner Sunday.

Mrs. E. M. Stark entertained at luncheon Thursday. Among the guests were Mrs. Wallace Rimpau, Mrs. Oscar Woods, and Mrs. E. M. Green of Los Angeles.

Miss Roberta Hopping was pleasantly surprised Thursday evening when a party of the young people dropped in on her to help celebrate her fifteenth birthday, a pleasant evening being enjoyed by all.

The Rev. Mr. Ferguson will have charge of the church services Sunday morning.

Next Tuesday evening the feature for our picture show will be one of the big hits of the year—a filmization of Booth Tarkington's best loved and most popular work, "The Gentleman from Indiana," with Dustin Farnum in the lead. After leaving the university where he has been one of the greatest football stars in years. John Harkless (Farnum) plunges into the thick of Indiana politics through purchasing the "Plattville Herald" and fearlessly smashing the corrupt political machine of Rodney McCune. While this conveys the gist of the story it by no means gives one the idea of the wonderful photoplay that has been built around Tarkington's very human story. For those who like a strong love story of a real man and a real woman they will not be disappointed. Every human element is offered and at last all turns out well. You will enjoy it from beginning to end. Come and bring your friends. This will be followed by a one-reel comedy, "Nearly a Deserter," a scream from start to finish.

The sixteenth annual convention of the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's clubs, will be held at Santa Monica March 27, 28, 29 and 30, at the Santa Monica Bay Woman's clubhouse. The convention will be called to order at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, March 27, at which time there will be roll call of clubs with presidents or representatives giving two minute responses concerning vital things accomplished by the clubs represented. At 2:30 on Tuesday the convention will be officially opened for the receiving and acting upon the report of the committee on revision and amendments of constitution and by-laws.

Miss Grace Palmer, who has been staying with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Morgan, and her mother, Mrs. Oliver H. Palmer, who came to Glendale last December, are leaving to-day for their home at Huntington, Long Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Morgan, who have been residing at 309 West Palmer avenue, are moving into their own home at 409 North Central avenue, Tropico, which they had rented when going to Imperial valley two years ago. The Morgans returned to Glendale from Imperial last July.

Rev. J. H. Henry went to Oxnard Friday to attend the funeral of his intimate friend, Major J. A. Driffel, late manager of the American Sugar Beet Company. Major Driffel was very well known in Southern California and his funeral was largely attended by prominent people from Los Angeles and elsewhere.

A party of Colorado and Chicago friends motored up from Long Beach Thursday and were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Turck of 521 Glendale avenue. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. James Stead and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Read of Estes Park, Colo., Mrs. Cornelia Hayden, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hayden and Mr. Julian Hayden of Chicago.

Dr. A. E. Johnson of Cloquet, Minn., who winters in Glendale, will leave to-morrow for his eastern home. Dr. Johnson left Minnesota in December when the mercury stood 30 below zero and he is going back now to snowdrifts several feet high. There was not much snow in northern Minnesota until very late in the winter, when two very severe storms piled the drifts so high that snow plows had no effect on them.

Miss Hazel Tyler of 1463 Salem street entertained the C. E. convention committee Friday evening, when a very pleasant evening was spent in games and a good social time. Acacia blossoms formed the pretty decorations and dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Roy King, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. The patriotic idea was worked out in the favors and courses of the dinner. Following the dinner the guests participated in an indoor track meet, Mr. Brown, the octogenarian of the group, winning the first medal, while Mr. M. L. Weaver scored second place.

The report has been circulated on the streets of Glendale this forenoon that Walter Eves, night desk sergeant at the fire house, accompanied by the lady of his choice and two other friends, drove to Santa Ana this forenoon for the purpose of securing a marriage license and making such use of it as the law prescribes. Report has been confirmed.

Among the Glendale contingent who attended the Friday Morning club in Los Angeles Friday were Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, Mrs. Luther Brown, Miss Rosemary Button, Mrs. A. F. Howard and Mrs. Willis M. Kimball. The speaker was Count Ilya Tolstoy, second son of the great Russian philosopher, Count Leo Tolstoy, and his subject was "The Life and Ideals of My Father." His talk on the intimate and very little known aspects of his father's life was one of intense interest and greatly enjoyed by those fortunate enough to be present.

ART AND TRAVEL SECTION

The Art and Travel Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club will meet at the home of Mrs. C. M. Turck, 521 Glendale avenue, Monday, when the study of Florence will be continued. A large attendance is desired.

VALLEY VIEW

The item in yesterday's News regarding D. W. Nefry, 735 S. Central avenue, moving to Hanford was an error. He is still a resident of Glendale.

Mail carrier Cluett of 1531 Colorado was replaced by an understudy Friday afternoon, and all because of an 8-pound boy showing up at his home. He was able to be on duty again to-day.

Speed the day when all the wineries as well as saloons will be cleared out of California. That one across the track from Valley View is certainly a curse to this section.

The two Walters' bungalows at the corner of Riverdale and Pacific are being completed now.

The flame of patriotism is burning steadily in this section. We number more than one member of the naval reserves and all are ready for the country's call.

L. E. Berkey of 1526 Ivy street was summoned to Orange county Thursday by news of the serious, probably fatal, illness of his father.

EDUCATIONAL NOTES

white hands. What she will do with it, nobody knows. She, herself does not know. But she will surely cut life over a new pattern. In all past ages woman never wielded the wonderful influence she does to-day. The girls of to-day are no more like those in the past century than an arc light is like a rush light. Their outlook on life is entirely different. Different ideals. Different amusements. Different ideas of modesty. They talk with men about things which our grandmothers would hardly discuss with one another. The higher criticism, eugenics, socialism, physiology, psychology, physics and metaphysics, baked and half-baked. She is a phenomenon and a problem. It is not so much what we shall do with her as what she will do with us. Yet she is the mother of the morrow—so far as she consents to become a mother.

She had no predecessor. She may have no like successor. Only the other day a lassie of seven was heard singing in public: "I should worry, I should care; I should marry a millionaire. If he should die, I should cry. I would marry another guy." "What would you prefer to be?" was asked a number of girls who came before me. The answers are illuminating. "Incendiary anarchist, "lawyer," "opera singer," "movie star," "Do as much good as Jane Addams, or dance like Pavlowa." I failed to see the connection between the last two unless as extreme. Luther Burbank says, "the same laws and principles apply in the vegetable and animal worlds. The father's dominating traits are inherited by his daughter. The kind of girl we have to deal with is a condition—not a theory. She is the legitimate result of heredity, her home, education and environment. We all know her—your, our sister, niece, daughter. She has almost everything she wants, except excitement enough. That she knows enough to get, and she will have it; openly, if she can, secretly if she must. Just so with the girl who comes to me. Some would sell their souls for clothes and amusement. If denied them in her own home, she will seek them elsewhere, usually where temptations are thickest, in the streets, the dance halls. You may as well try to stand up against a tidal wave as to keep her from dancing. She has little or no idea of the sacred or divine in marriage. Too often she marries just to get freedom to go where, and do what, she pleases. Conditions bring her into trouble as water runs down hill. She is not satisfied with uneventful days. Like confined steam, she will explode if given no sufficient outlet to her energetic longings. Often without thought of harm, the joy-ride, the stolen dance, or theatre party, when trusting mother thinks daughter is spending the night with a friend. That may be literally true, but not with the friend mother imagines. Many a mother has no idea of her daughter's real ideals, longings and temptations. The girls who mostly come to us have been taught but little at home. Often the parents are divorced, or both dead; or they quarrel and fight till the daughter has little respect for either. One said of her parents: "They scrap with each other, nag at me, take my wages, and I skip—won't stand for it." One about 14 ran away from home. Father wired us to look her up. We found her in a disreputable house, wearing pretty clothes. "Poor old man," she said of her father. "He doesn't understand. He wants me to come back home to work for him. Every girl I know does what I am doing. Why not? It's better than the kind of home we have. Besides, the boys won't spend a cent on you unless you come across." Half the time they do not know the names of the boys with whom they go—just pick them up on the streets. One on probation said: "Why, I'm getting along all right here. It is so lonesome being good."

The legal penalty for contributing to the delinquency of a minor girl is two years in the penitentiary, or $5000 fine. There is no penalty at law for the indirect contributory negligence of mothers. There ought to be. Also for fathers who fail to teach their boys that a girl's fall is a boy's fall, also. Just as criminal. California is doing more than any other state to help and save fallen women. More might be done by parents to prevent them from falling. Working in court five days a week, since November, 1915, over 2300 cases came before me. Only two appeals from my decisions, and both failed to reverse my judgments. All boys up to 12 and all girls come before me. Girls are more frank with women officials. All my officials are women. I try to interpret the law so as to do the right thing, the best thing for the girl under all the circumstances. Girls find it no use to try the "pull" of beauty and fine clothes in my court. When parents bring their daughter, she is given a chance to talk with me alone, if she wishes. She will be more frank with me. Men who have ruined girls do not feel comfortable in my court. Six boys were before me. I let them wait for about five minutes alone. Then the girl came in. They all confessed. One old man was bitterly opposed to woman suffrage, saying there would be woman judges. "What show would a wife beater have before a woman judge?" he asked contemptuously. One little 12 year old girl came in and had a condential talk with me. When she went out she said: "There wasn't any judge in there—just a kind lady who was good to me." I am always glad to talk with mothers. The girl needs friends. The Friendly Society tries to find a friend for every lonesome girl. Of course they can reach but few. There are six hundred girls on probation and but six attendants. Think of the lonesome ones among that unhappy, if not ignoble, six hundred. So many of you ladies might be a friend to one or more of them.

"How could I help?" asked one sympathetic member of the P.-T. A. in the audience.

Promptly Miss Shontz answered: "You might take one of them into your home."

("And the young man went away sorrowful; for he had great riches.)

"You might call the girl you are helping up by phone almost any morning. Many members of the P.-T. A. are doing good, helpful work. There is a committee on Juvenile Court work in each school P.-T. A."

"What was done to those six confessing young men?" asked one of the audience.

"The leader was sent to prison for a year; the others put on strict probation," was the laconic answer.

"What percentage of girls really reform?" asked another.

"Fully 85 per cent.," said Miss Shontz, with gratitude in her voice and a mist of thankfulness in her kindly eyes.

"Would Miss Shontz give suggestions to clubs and individuals as to what would be helpful?"

"Yes, everything of a preventive nature helps. More playgrounds are needed; more variety of amusements and games. Recreation centers that would keep families together. Something to take the place of dance halls. They just will dance."

There was one of sixteen years, her father having filed the complaint. She had more sense than either parent. She said: "I can stay away But don't ask Mommer. She can't and won't." "Mommer" is 55 and without a tooth she did not pay for.

Quite a large percentage of those girls come from good homes; but they are dull and eventless. So the girls steal away. Something is radically wrong with such homes.

"What do you do with them?"

"Oh, our probation officers place as many in homes as they can. But we need more good homes that will take them and treat them decently, to help them forget what has happened to them."

After warmly thanking Miss Shontz for her valuable information and advice, Mrs. Burr suggested a standing vote of thanks to Miss Shontz, which was given with enthusiasm.

In this connection it may be stated that, inspired by what she knows of the good work of Miss Shontz, there is a woman in Pasadena who supports herself, but has offered 100 acres of land, an old ranch near Oceanside, to be used as a training college for delinquent girls, so they may learn how to earn an honest living. But the need is for money to erect buildings and equip them for such purpose. For two years a small training school has been running at 1632 Santee street, Los Angeles, with wonderfully good results. Enough to prove what a blessing a large school would be. Do not our needy girls deserve as much consideration as those in China, Japan, India, or other foreign countries? More than 150 women pass through the Los Angeles jail every month. What are YOU going to DO about it? "Am I my sister's keeper?"

Dr. Jessie A. Russell was the guest of honor at an elaborate luncheon given Thursday in Los Angeles by Mrs. J. H. Weaver of Minneapolis.

Lodge No. 1289, B. P. O. E., have been invited to attend Sunday morning's services at St. Mark's church. The members of the lodge will meet at the club rooms at 10:45 to-morrow morning and from there will go to St. Mark's church to hear Dr. Mills preach.

In the afternoon the men of the church go out two by two to visit all the members. This will be done each month hereafter.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The pastor will preach both morning and evening. Morning worship, 11 o'clock. Sermon topic, "The still small voice." Evening service, 7:30. Sermon topic, "The rule of the bottomless pit." Second in series of popular sermons from the book of Revelation. Text, Rev. 9:7.

Sabbath school, 9:30. Three Christian Endeavor meetings at the usual hours: 3, 4:30 and 6:30.

LOCAL THANKSGIVING DAYS

The practice of having local Thanksgiving days has prevailed to some extent in America. On Oct. 15, 1814, the mayor of Baltimore, upon the suggestion of the city pastors, appointed the following Thursday "to be observed as a day of thanksgiving to the Adorable Disposer of all human events on account of our recent deliverance from the British fleet and army." That was for the escape of Baltimore after the attack on Washington in 1814. A few months later the newspapers stated that "both houses of the Ohio legislature on Wednesday, the 8th day of February, pursuant to a resolution previously adopted, moved in procession to the Presbyterian meeting house in Chillicothe and rendered public thanks to Almighty God for granting such brilliant success to our aims at New Orleans in the recent victories obtained by General Jackson and his compatriots." Chillicothe at that time was the capital of Ohio.
